Introducing the Oakland Community Preparedness and Response Program

In light of wildfire and earthquake disaster threats to our City, the Oakland Firesafe Council has launched a new program called Oakland Community Preparedness and Response (OCP&R). This program will provide awareness, educational workshops, materials and support to help increase the overall community preparedness level and to improve disaster response capabilities.

The OCP&R program is funded by grants from CAL FIRE and the California Fire Foundation, with additional funds from the City of Oakland. OCP&R’s goals are to increase the number of well-organized and active neighborhoods, promote NFPA Firewise USA® certifications, communicate emergency evacuation and notification procedures, provide PG&E power shutoff preparedness tips and help ensure a safer recovery from a disaster, among other efforts.

OCP&R hinges on community involvement. Team members have worked closely with Neighborhood Crime Prevention Councils, Neighborhood Associations and organized neighborhood groups as well as local and regional Fire, Police and Emergency Management Services agencies in building the program.

OCP&R program development started in September, 2019, and outreach, workshop delivery, materials and support are now being offered to residents of the City of Oakland.
